

Discoveries, the Journals of Lewis & Clark

Duration:	60	min
Number of players:	2-4	player/s
Materials/ Tools needed:	boardgame
Publisher:	Ladonaute
Game Designer:	Cédric Chaboussit
Language	Eng
Links:	https://boardgamegeek.com/boardgame/171669/discoveries-the-journals-of-lewis-and-clark

Type of game: (x) board () card () role play () simulation () computer () Serious () Other:	Main topic: Each player manages an expedition intended to cross the North American continent. Their goal is to collect information about the inhabitants and nature.
--	---

Short description/ Goal of the game: The Lewis and Clark Expedition, which was commissioned in 1803 and ended in 1806, was the first party of men that went through the North American continent, then returned. During these three years, the leaders Meriwether Lewis and William Clark, along with Sergeant Gass and Sergeant Ordway, wrote page after page about their trip, describing the new plants and animals species they discovered and drawing the maps of unknown areas. In Discoveries, you play one of the Expedition members: Lewis, Clark, Gass or Ordway. Your goal is to compile as much knowledge as possible in your journal, and in this way advance science thanks to your discoveries. (Source: https://boardgamegeek.com/boardgame/171669/discoveries-the-journals-of-lewis-and-clark)	Image:
---	---

Educational value/ Learning Objectives:

In the rulebook you'll find the instructions of president Jefferson and you'll find parts of the journals of the expedition members.

There is information about the four best known expedition leaders. And there are the names of the American Indian tribes the expedition met.

... them in your Stock

Timeline of the Expedition

May 14, 1804 - 4 PM: The Corps of Discovery begins its leave Camp Dubois in three boats: two pirogues crewed by men respectively, and a keelboat custom-made for them. Their destination is the Pacific coast.

August 3, 1804 - The Corps of Discovery, acting as representatives of the USA, holds the first official council between America and the Oto Indians at what is now Council Bluffs, Iowa. The American Corps performs a parade before their hosts, and Lewis declares the power of his "air gun".

August 20, 1804 - Sergeant Charles Floyd, the only member of the Corps to die during the Expedition, dies from a ruptured appendix.

August 30, 1804 - An amicable council takes place with the Sioux. Legend has it that Lewis wraps an infant in a US flag and declares the baby to be "an American".

October 24, 1804 - The Corps arrives at the villages of the Mandan and Hidatsas. Lewis and Clark make the decision to build Fort Mandan on the other side of the river from the main village. Sacagawea becomes the interpreter and the guide of the Expedition to the Yellowstone River.

April 7-25, 1805 - The Expedition travels from Fort Mandan to the Yellowstone River.

April 25 - June 3, 1805 - From the Yellowstone to Marias River. May 5, Clark and a hunter kill the first grizzly bear they ever encountered.

June 3-20, 1805 - From Marias River to the Great Falls.

July 15 - August 11, 1805 - The Corps journeys from Great Falls to the vicinity of the Shoshone Indians. On August 11, Captain Lewis encounters a Shoshone man, the first American Indian seen leaving Ft. Mandan.

August 17, 1805 - A council is held with the Shoshone. The Shoshone chief is Cameahwait, who turns out to be Sacagawea's brother. After presenting various gifts to Cameahwait's people, Lewis and Clark manage to obtain horses for the purposes of both travel and food. It is around this time the Shoshone guide Old Toby joins the Expedition.

September 1 - October 6, 1805 - While crossing the Bitterroot Mountains, the Corps meets Flathead and Nez Perce Indians.

October 9 - December 7, 1805 - Journey from the Bitterroot and Columbia Rivers to the Pacific Ocean.

December 7, 1805 - The Corps reaches the Pacific Ocean at Fort Astoria.